Flourishing by Faith is a faith based lifestyle blog located in Miami, Florida. Daniella Ruiz, the founder and featured blogger, launched the blog in 2016 to help those around her thrive, grow and fulfill their purpose in God. In just two years, the blog is set to launch their first segment titled “Flourish Girl Flourish.” This new element will highlight the stories of female entrepreneurs who have stepped out in faith and are now inspiring others globally to flourish.

Our founder writes and curates all of the content featured on Flourishing by Faith. It is her goal to include an encouraging and uplifting message along with essential products for her readers to have on their spiritual journey.

Flourishing by Faith has around 1,500 unique daily clicks, and more than 1,700 social media followers from the U.S., Canada, Mexico and Colombia. 67% of our readers are women and 33% are men, whose ages range from 18–44.
